Leadership: Past, Current Scenario and Way Forward

Aims and Scope:

Based on my experience in giving Conference Presentation to MBA Students and attending Ph.D. Interviews with Faculty Members in Organizational Behavior and Human Resource Management Area in Indian Institute of Managements (IIMs), I have noticed that there is no one common understanding of Leadership. Different individuals have their own views on Leadership. Also, people have seldom the idea what it takes for a person to become a leader. Therefore, the main purpose behind this book series on “Leadership: Past, Current Scenario and Way Forward” is to bring about a common understanding of the subject of Leadership among Industry, Academics and Research World. I invite insightful and thought-provoking Chapters, Research Papers, Review Papers or Case Studies on the subject of Leadership. It is important to probe into the area of Leadership as it can help Educational Institutions make students to imbibe leadership qualities and enable Organizations to provide leadership experiences to their employees to transform them into future leaders. The readers of the book will be benefitted as they will understand the nuances of leadership and be encouraged to take the leadership path.
