Sustainable Inclusive Empowerment through Entrepreneurial Development

Aims and Scope:

The proposed edited book shows that entrepreneurial activities can deal with many economic, social, and environmental challenges at the global and local levels. As the existing relevant literature is fragmented, this book aims to expand and enrich our knowledge of entrepreneurship, social and environmental sustainability, and economic growth through a more comprehensive approach. With the objectives of the book, this volume contributes to entrepreneurial challenges, Tourism, MSMEs and Women Empowerment a new peer-reviewed body of evidence that provides fresh insights and perspectives and informs and further engages the entrepreneurship discipline. Entrepreneurship has been identified as a conducive element in Sustainable Inclusive Empowerment. It also plays an important role in achieving sustainable development, especially entrepreneurial challenges, Tourism, MSMEs and Empowerment can contribute to the implementation for promoting inclusive and sustainable development and innovation all tasks in which entrepreneurs are essential. This book about Sustainable Inclusive Empowerment through Entrepreneurial development as a form of empowerment takes a positive view of the role of entrepreneurship in society. The requirement for responsible entrepreneurial development is a global necessity given in the globalisation trends and ongoing economic growth. The need for the small business community to embrace and comply with sustainable development is essential in both the developed and developing world. However, this book will remain emerging and there is a need to capture and reflect on best practices. Thus, there is a need for ongoing evidence to inform this debate drawn from differing contexts. Entrepreneurs who contribute to sustainable development focus on the triple bottom line, considering the social, environmental and economic impact, making these aspects relevant for the firm's development, and creating loyalty from all stakeholders because of the special consideration given to their concerns. Policymakers can support these entrepreneurs by easing start-up procedures and facilitating access to credit and growth capital.
